DEAD NUMBER FORTY-NINE

TOTAL CASUALTIES PLACED AT HUNDRED AND TEN

Further Details of Disaster Aboard the Gunboat Bennington—Men on Ship Expected Accident.

San Diego, Cal., July 22.—A complete summary of yesterday's disaster aboard the gunboat Bennington in San Diego bay may now be given with some degree of accuracy. The total number of casualties up to the present time is placed at 110, as follows: Known dead, 49; dead believed to be in flooded compartments of the vessel, 7; now at hospitals under treatment, 54. A number of men are still missing, the total not being obtainable at this hour. It is possible, however, that when the complete story is written the casualties will foot up 125.

The day brought other developments and news of most intense interest and importance to naval officers. From Washington came the information that Rear Admiral Goodrich, commanding the Pacific squadron, had been ordered to San Diego forthwith. This is taken to mean a naval investigation into the causes of the explosion on the Bennington and fixing of the blame therefor.

The Bennington to night lies deeper than ever in the mud and shallow water and no apparent progress was made in the work of pumping out her flooded compartments. Until this is accomplished the secrets of her horror chamber will not be discovered. This much is known, however: Seven bodies are wedged beneath the collapsed crown sheets and burst bulkheads of the fireroom. How many more may be found there is absolutely unknown.

Commander Young said this afternoon he was unable to tell what caused the explosion. He said every man in the fireroom at the time of the explosion was killed and every effort was being made to recover the bodies. He said that one of the bodies is wedged in such a shape that it may be necessary to dismember it in order to take it out. He said the theory that the damage to the Bennington was caused by high explosives was entirely wrong, as there was no high explosive aboard, as far as he knows, that boilers were in first class condition; that they were recently tested to 250 pounds pressure, and at the time of the explosion carried only 120.

At Agnew's sanitarium, where a large majority of the victims have been treated, there were still thirty-four sufferers, almost a dozen of whom are expected to die of their terrible injuries.

At St. Joseph's sanitarium ten of the scorched and scalded sufferers were resting. Several of them are horribly injured, but the sister superior in charge believes all will recover, though some will be crippled and maimed for life.

Close to the water front in the old army barracks are nine other victims. The majority of these are very badly scalded and may die. It was from this place that Ensign Perry was brought from the explosion and from there his dead body was removed only a few hours later.

To morrow the Bennington's dead will be accorded all the honors of a military funeral and the bodies will be interred in the cemetery on the Point Loma government reservation. Relatives of many of the dead have requested the bodies of their kinsmen be shipped home. This will be done.

ACCIDENT EXPECTED. Commander Young expressed the opinion there was a weak spot in one of the boilers, but said there had been no visible defect so far as he knew.

Men who were injured, including Ensign Perry, told a different story. They say it had been the talk of the ship for at least six months the boilers were defective and many of them had feared for a long time just such an accident would happen.

The upper deck amidships presents a mass of wreckage, smokestacks have been blown out of place and the superstructure is bent and twisted in all sorts of shapes. Plates on the sides are bulging out and leaks in a number of places are letting in water.

LUCKY MAN.

John Turpin, colored, who was on board the Maine when she was blown up in Havana, was on board the Bennington and again escaped injury. He rendered valuable aid in rescuing dead and wounded.

CAUSE OF ACCIDENT.

Fireman E. G. Hopp makes the first statement as to the cause of the accident. He says shortly before the explosion one of the boilers was found to be leaking badly and a boilermaker was sent for to repair the damage, but before the latter came the explosion occurred. Hopp saw men all about him killed outright and was himself stunned for a moment.

MILITARY BURIAL.

The dead will be given military burial Sunday afternoon at the military reservation at Point Loma.

LIEUTENANT YATES' STORY.

Lieutenant Yates, executive officer of the Bennington at the time of the disaster, was in the aft cabin. He rushed out to be met by a blinding, scalding cloud of steam as it swept the vessel. Speaking of the occurrence, he said: "I

BODY OF PAUL JONES ARRIVES

BROUGHT FROM PARIS BY ADMIRAL SIGSBEE

Ceremony of Removing the Remains From the Cruiser Brooklyn Will Occur Monday—Naval Officers Pall Bearers.

Norfolk, Va., July 22.—The body of Admiral Paul Jones, recently found in Paris, arrived at Virginia Capes this morning on the cruiser Brooklyn, the Brooklyn having been escorted by the cruisers Galveston, Tacoma and Chattanooga from France across the Atlantic. Off this coast the fleet was met by the battleship squadron of the North Atlantic fleet in two divisions, the first being under command of Rear Admiral Evans and the second commanded by Rear Admiral Davis. Sigsbee and the Davis squadron proceeded immediately up the Chesapeake bay bearing the body of Jones toward Annapolis, its last resting place, while the vessels of Evans' squadron proceeded to Old Point Comfort.

TRANSFER OF BODY.

Annapolis, Md., July 22.—All the details of the transfer of the body of Admiral John Paul Jones from the United States cruiser Brooklyn to the naval academy have been arranged. The ceremonies are to be simple, the "pomp and circumstance" being reserved for the time of the removal of the body from the temporary vault into which it will be placed Monday to its permanent resting place, the crypt of the splendid new naval academy chapel. This will likely be a year hence.

Sigsbee's squadron will anchor for the night fifteen miles below Annapolis. To morrow morning they will take up their position just outside Annapolis harbor and about five miles from the naval academy wharf, where the French cruiser Jurien de la Graviere is now anchored. At 10 a. m. Monday the body will be conveyed to a point on the north sea wall of the academy grounds by the naval tug Standish and as the cortege moves from the landing place fifteen minute guns will be fired from the academy battery. The burial party after a short march will be joined by all the officers attached to the academy.

The pall bearers will be Rear Admiral James H. Sands, superintendent of the naval academy; Rear Admiral Charles Davis, commanding the second division of the North Atlantic squadron; Capt. Benjamin P. Lilly, commanding the battleship Iowa; Capt. E. D. Taussig, commanding the battleship Massachusetts; Capt. William H. Reeder, commanding the battleship Alabama, and Capt. E. E. Gervais, commanding the French cruiser Jurien de la Graviere.

There will be eight body bearers, seven from the different vessels of the fleet, and eight seamen from the French cruiser will act as honorary body bearers. The escort will consist of four battalions of sailors from the American squadron, a battalion of sailors and marines from the academy and a detachment of fifty sailors from the Jurien de la Graviere. All midshipmen now at the academy will be paraded without arms. The body will then be deposited in a temporary vault. There will be no service and the whole affair is expected to be over in a quarter of an hour.

Paris, July 22.—M. Witte, Russian peace plenipotentiary, had a two hours' talk with Premier Rouvier to day and was received in audience by President Loubet at the Elyse palace. No authoritative statements were given out concerning either meeting. One report is that Rouvier and Witte went over the prospective peace negotiations, dwelling particularly upon the influence France could exert on Great Britain to induce the latter to moderate Japanese demands. It is also the accepted view that Witte is favorable to a Russo-Japanese understanding by which lasting peace in the far east would be secured. Prospects of this understanding are regarded as one of the chief means by which Japan may be induced to abate the severity of her conditions, particularly upon the question of indemnity.

INQUIRY INTO BEEF TRUST

RESUME OF GOVERNMENT'S PROCEEDINGS

Situation Reviewed by Attorney General Moody in Address Before Boston Club—Public Asked to Wait.

Nahant, Mass., July 22.—Attorney General Moody in an address before the Lynch Lincoln club of Boston at its midsummer outing here to day gave a resume of the government's proceedings against the combination of beef packers. The attorney general said his conclusion to review the situation was due to no misunderstanding as to the attitude of the administration. He said also it was done with the approval of the president. Mr. Moody then sketched steps taken by the department of justice at various stages of the case against the packers, pointing out how President Roosevelt had ordered a most searching inquiry into the conduct of the packers and showing how difficult it had been to obtain evidence submitted to the grand jury which recently indicted members and employees of packing firms.

He concluded with an appeal to the public to withhold judgment until the cases had been disposed of. He said that cases had been tried, because each and all are presumed to be innocent until passed upon by a trial jury. "Let us hope," he said, "that this verdict will be a declaration of truth in fact as it is in name."

ARE A MISTAKE

St. Louis, July 22.—Testifying before the interstate commerce commission to day J. T. Harahan, second vice president of the Illinois Central railroad, testified that his road makes elevator allowances at East St. Louis, Memphis and Cairo, Ill. A charge is made for elevation of export grain at New Orleans.

Harahan said emphatically that he believed that elevator allowances under conditions now existing were a mistake. He declared they should be wiped out and not granted at any point. He felt that concessions would aid in the prompt release of cars, he said, was one of the motives for granting them in the first place.

CAUSED BY A LEAK.

Washington, July 22.—Details of the explosion on the gunboat Bennington at San Diego, as ascertained by Capt. Lucien Young, were received at the navy department late to night in a long telegram from the commander. It appears from the telegram that a small leak had been discovered in boiler "B" and the boiler-maker was on his way to repair it and was passing through the engine room when the explosion occurred.

Color Schemes.

If the room is without sun, says the Scientific American, make pale yellow the color key. If it is cold (on a cliff or in the mountains or in shadow of high, neighboring walls), warm it with a blending of mahogany and pink or old rose and old gold hangings combined with a relief of curtains in ivory or ecru that. If it is sunny, mahogany or other dark woods and blue will give the desired effect. If it is too dark, light it up with maple or white enamel, with cream or golden brown or with rose tones on the walls, and put some bright blooming plants and ferns about the windows.

Cracked Lips.

Cracked lips are often caused by ill health and indigestion. Put a little good cold cream on every night after washing and overhaul your dietary if you are troubled in this way and want to remedy the matter. Never bite your lips, however rough and uncomfortable they may feel. Biting makes matters worse rather than better and is likely to permanently spoil the outline of the lips and make them thick and ugly.

SCHWAB IS GRATEFUL.

New York, July 22.—Because Town Topics did not follow the lead of other papers in telling of Charles M. Schwab's tour of Europe, when he was represented as chasing about madly in automobiles, buying special trains for fabulous sums and breaking the bank at Monte Carlo every other night, the former head of the steel trust says he willingly subscribed $1,000 for Town Topics and Fables. RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Burlington Freight Wreck at Reno—Passenger Delayed
Over Five Hours—Alton Section Hands in Demand—Items of Interest.

Four cars attached to Burlington extra freight, pulled by engine 1155, were ditched at Reno, a point about twenty miles south of Litchfield, early Saturday morning. The wrecker from Beardstown spent the entire day clearing away the debris. The accident was caused by a broken flange on one of the car wheels, and about fifty yards of track was torn up. The freight was in charge of Conductor Rawlings. Passenger train No. 47, due here about 10:55 a. m., did not get in until 4:45 p. m. The regular Saturday shoppers from Franklin and other points south were kept at home on account of the wreck, thereby affecting local trade.

James Green and family have returned from a pleasant visit with friends in Bloomington. Mr. Green will resume his place as brakeman on the local C. & P. & St. L. passenger runs this morning, and Brakeman Williams, who has been substituting, will return to his run out of Springfield.

L. B. Smith, traveling passenger agent for the Santa Fe at St. Louis, spent Saturday in the city on business.

George Holliday, conductor on the local C. & P. & St. L. passenger, has gone to Iowa to meet his family and will return about the middle of the week.

The Wabash freight house is nearing completion and will probably be ready for occupancy in a week or so.

Trinimaster L. W. Karnes, of the Wabash, called at the local office Saturday.

The appointment of O. F. Williams as division passenger agent of the Alton, in charge of the territory north of Bloomington, was announced Friday, following a meeting of the passenger officials in Chicago Thursday. This was the meeting that was first scheduled for Springfield. Mr. Williams succeeds the late J. F. McClure. It has been decided to make his headquarters in Bloomington instead of Chicago, and his territory will be enlarged to take in some branch territory. The territory of W. H. Abel of the Springfield district is extended, going as far as Mexico. Mr. Williams, who is advanced to division agent, has been with the Chicago offices of the passenger department for some years and comes highly recommended.

The Alton's wrecking derelict was sent to Green Ridge early Friday morning to pick up a couple of coal cars derailed on the Macoupin county road, as the branch of the Northwestern running south of Green Ridge is known. The Alton is occasionally called upon to pick up some wrecked cars for that company, as it is so far from its own line that it would not pay to send an outfit down.

The exact location of the new depot at Mexico, Mo., has not been settled, as the road is receiving a great many letters from business men and those in the town who wish the depot put on Washington street instead of Jefferson as was first contemplated. The Alton now seems to be in earnest about building a separate depot from the Wabash, and the latter road is reported to have sent a gang of surveyors to Mexico to look over the ground and survey a site for their new structure. This action of the two roads has caused considerable comment, and it is likely that war will be in order between the two.

The Alton road department is experiencing great difficulty in securing enough section men to keep the gangs full, and it is said that there is scarcely a gang that has the full quota of men at the present time. While the fact that the men earn but $1.30 per day is the reason for this difficulty, the disagreeable weather conditions also have a great deal to do with it. As a rule men who can be induced to work steadily on the section during extremely cold and wet weather, refuse to remain at work during the summer months, when the temperature along the rock ballasted grade in the glaring sun often reaches 110 degrees.

LEAVING JACKSONVILLE.

Almost ten years ago I came to Jacksonville a total stranger. My reception here and treatment by this community has indeed been most satisfactory and pleasant. It is, therefore, with considerable regret that I now contemplate leaving Jacksonville to follow a call to a higher work in the path of duty.

Having accepted the chair of Bible and science in Healdsburg college, Healdsburg, Cal., a Christian school conducted by my own denomination, I am now compelled to close up my business interests here and get away by the first of September. All those having accounts with me should arrange to close them up immediately. I shall not be able to take on very much new work and wish to finish what I have on hand at once. I shall have some house and office furnishings to offer for sale, and any who are interested may phone or call to see me.

A number have taken under consideration the purchase of my home on Hardin avenue. I hope to close up this matter at once and although I have been holding the property at a very low price, to close the deal at once, am willing to make even a closer proposition.

It is not necessary for me to enter largely into the reasons for my going to California, as these are mainly personal. It is doubtful, however, if my aged mother can endure another Illinois winter, and for her sake, as well as for other great reasons, I have decided to make the change.

Ashland Bank Will Incorporate as State Institution—Springfield Auto Party Attacked by Farmer—Other Notes.

Petersburg—Lee Eaton, son of Milton Eaton, a well known young man of this city, was struck in the head by a brick Thursday afternoon at Tallula, injuries of a probably fatal character, resulting with several companions Eaton had gone to Tallula early in the day for the purpose of attending the Old Settlers' reunion. One Hubbs, of Ashland, and Eaton threw a brick, striking him in the forehead and causing concussion which resulted in a blood clot on the brain. He became unconscious immediately and was removed to his home in this city. Drs. Wilkins and Cheaney performed an operation Friday afternoon in the hope of relieving him. It is highly probable the case will result seriously. Hubbs has not been arrested as yet.

Ashland—The bank of Skiles, Reardon & Co., of this city, which has been conducted as a private bank since its organization in 1881, has arranged to incorporate as a state bank, increasing its capital stock to $50,000, which will be subscribed by some of our leading business men and farmers, in addition to the members of the old firm.

Springfield—A party of Springfield automobilists was attacked by an angry farmer near Lanesville Thursday evening. The party, which consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Hilgely Hudson, Miss Margaret Tiffney, George Hickox and Nicholas Jones, was returning from the golf course at Bloomington. As the auto approached Lanesville a figure was seen in the roadway and seemed to be brandishing a stick. Believing the man intended to warn them of danger, the occupants of the auto brought the machine to a standstill. No sooner had they done so than the man, who was armed with a whip, attacked the party. Two other men who were seated in a rig at the side of the road were spectators of the occurrence, but took no part. The chauffeur crowded on all possible power and the machine darted away, leaving the angry farmer behind. It is believed that his team had become frightened at an automobile and that he sought this means of taking revenge on the first party of automobilists he should encounter.

Havana—Amanda M. Brown, department president of the W. R. C., has been appointed on the advisory board of the Memorial university, Mason City, Iowa. Florence O. McClelland of Chicago, Eva E. Petersburg—Rev. Edward Worth, a prominent minister, residing near Athens, sustained injuries Thursday evening that resulted in the amputation of his left arm Friday morning. Rev. Mr. Worth was leading two colts to water at his farm, when a dog ran under one of the animals. The colts became frightened and began kicking, and in the attempt to control them, Mr. Worth fell under their hoofs. His arm was broken close to the shoulder and his back severely injured. Dr. W. A. Mudd was summoned and decided that the injured member could not be saved and a Springfield surgeon was called and the amputation was performed. The sufferer is 70 years of age.

Clinton—A new lodge of Knights of Columbus will be installed at this place Sunday, July 30. Preparations are being made to handle an immense crowd, as it is expected that delegations will be here from Decatur, Springfield, Bloomington and many other points. J. J. Thompson, of Bloomington, will act as installing officer. Over a hundred members will be taken in.

Marion—Twenty-nine or thirty Chicago children were sent back home on the afternoon train north Thursday. The last of the children will leave a week from Tuesday, after their two weeks are finished. One final story is now going the rounds. It has to do with a carpet sweeper. One Marga woman was entering two children over night. When she started to sweep the carpet with her machine and saw the little boy eyeing it covetously, she gave it to him and told him to sweep if he wished. He pushed the sweeper around a bit and then called excitedly to his sister: "Rosy, come here and watch me sweep with a broomstick."

TRAP SHOOTING NOTES.

James A. Groves has returned from Decatur, where he participated in a two days' trap shooters' tournament last week. He made the high amateur score, breaking 191 blue rocks out of 200, and but one of the seven professionals present made a better score. Cadwallader broke 192.

Speaking of the good work of Mr. Groves the Decatur Review says: "Prominent in the second day's shooting conducted by George Ruppert at the Sigel street range was the work done by J. A. Groves, of Jacksonville, originally registered as an amateur, though he has now stepped into the professional class. He broke 191 out of 200 in a run, falling only one short of H. W. Cadwallader."

Groves, Ed Scott, Craig and others will go to Litchfield to morrow to participate in the Consolidated Trap Shooters' congress shoot, to be held there Tuesday and Wednesday.

 Don't be fooled by these cool nights. The backbone of summer is only bent, not broken.

If Chairman Morton is only using the probe what will happen when he begins to lay bare with the scalpel?

The political health of Russia would indicate that the country certainly needs a new constitution, and needs it quick.

It made a big noise, but its report will hardly compare with the shot heard 'round the world and fired at Concord bridge.

The glad hand of the candidate will be conspicuous by its absence at the forthcoming midsummer bourgeois and picnics. This is the off season in politics.

Maybe Secretary Wilson can explain it according to the Jerry Simpson method. "Figures will not lie, but bars will figure."

Magnate Schwab says he recently paid "Town Topics" $1,500 for not roasting him. To a man up a tree it would seem that he was done to a turn anyhow.

The Equitable is the best continued story article the newspapers have had for many a day. As a first page proposition it is almost as good as the Russo-Japanese war.

The colored seaman who escaped from the gunboat Bennington, was also among the saved of the battleship Maine, which went down in Havana harbor. He must carry a rabbit's foot that was caught in a graveyard at the right phase of the moon, and it must surely be the left hind foot.

We have Wagner's "Simple Life," Roosevelt's "strenuous" life, and now comes President Benjamin Ide Wheeler and advises us to lead the "abundant" life. None of them will compare with the honest life and none are finding it out better than men in high places. Life is worth while only if we live right.

STRAIGHTENING SANGAMON.
 The Pollard & Goff dredge boat began work Friday near Kilbourne on the work of straightening the channel of the Sangamon river in Kilbourne and Crane creek townships, Mason county. The river is now a winding stream thirty-two miles long and subject to periodical overflows, but the new channel will be a ditch twelve miles long, fourteen feet deep and eighty feet wide. The boat that will do the dredging work is said to be the largest in the United States and the dipper has a capacity of three cubic yards of dirt. The cost of the project will be about $150,000 and is to be paid by the farmers and land owners who will be benefited by the proposed improvement.—Virginia Gazette.

Tan shoes, high or low, at 25 per cent discount at Hillerby, Vickery & Brady's.

CULINARY CONCEITS.

Prunes, soaked and chopped, make an acceptable addition to fruit cake.

To improve tomato soup always add a squeeze of orange just before serving.

Onions should always be boiled in water that has been salted; otherwise they lose much of their flavor.

Boiled carrots, if passed through a potato masher or a sieve and seasoned with pepper and salt, make an excellent vegetable course.

A most delicious fritter is made by chopping cold chicken meat, seasoning it with celery salt and mixing in the ordinary fritter batter. Fry by spoonfuls in deep fat.

Orange frosting for cake is made by grating the rind of an orange and squeezing the juice and a tablespoonful of lemon juice over it. Gradually beat into the mixture confectioner's sugar until the proper consistency is reached.

That Stitch In Time.

Never neglect small repairs. A stitch in time saves not only nine, but ninety. Don't let buttons hang by their last thread, darn small holes, never wear dirty or tumbled lace, brush off mud and blind frayed skirts. Fine feathers make fine birds, but never go in for only outside show. Your lingerie, corsets and stockings should be good, if plain, and always carefully kept in order. A clean cotton petticoat is better than a shabby silk one, and the smartest boots look bad if they are worn down at heel or minus buttons or laces. Remember the outward appearance is often an index of a person's character and that one is apt to get "untidy" in one's character when habits of untidiness are indulged in. The tidy girl makes a tidy wife and a tidy mother, and her influence goes far, like the ripples that spread in water after a stone has been thrown in it.

CONTESTS ARE ALREADY ON

Strife for Seats in the Upper House Has Begun in Many of the States—Members Whose Terms Expire March 1, 1907.

Washington, July 22.—With the senate likely to take an independent stand on railroad questions, the senatorial elections of 1906 promise to be of unusual popular concern. One-third of the membership of ninety must appeal to the legislatures for re-election. As several of the states already have, in effect, popular elections to the senate through the means of a primary, several of these thirty senators—nearly all of whom want another term—must appeal to the people. That holds true of Senator Martin in Virginia, who is already in the midst of an active canvass. Virginia and Kentucky are two states that elect their senators one year ahead of the necessary time, thus eliminating senatorial politics from the biennial campaigns.

Whatever the result of next year's elections, the Republican majority in the senate will be maintained. It is not probable that either party will gain or lose materially. The big senatorial fights, as between the two political parties, will be confined almost entirely in the far west—to such states as Montana, Idaho and Colorado. There the Democrats came into control with the sweep of the free silver cause in the early '90s, and have not yet altogether been ousted. But there are several of the twenty-eight states to choose a senator next year where the strife will be spirited within the party to determine what man shall wear the toga.

SEATS TO BE VOTED NEXT YEAR.

Omitting Virginia and Kentucky, whose legislatures will elect successors to Martin and Blackburn, respectively, this winter, the senators whose terms expire March 3, 1907, and whose successors will be designated by next year's voting, are as follows:

Alger, Michigan; Allee, Delaware; Burton, Georgia; Bailey, Texas; Berry, Arkansas; Burnham, New Hampshire; Burton, Kansas; Carmack, Tennessee; Clark, Montana; Crane, Massachusetts; Cullom, Illinois; Doliver, Iowa; Dryden, New Jersey; Dubois, Idaho; Elkins, West Virginia; Foster, Louisiana; Frye, Maine; Gamble, South Dakota; McLaurin, Mississippi; Millard, Nebraska; Mitchell, Oregon; Morgan, Alabama; Nelson, Minnesota; Patterson, Colorado; Simmons, North Carolina; Tillman, South Carolina; Warren, Wyoming; Wetmore, Rhode Island.

Of the thirty in this class, now known to the senate officially as class two, fourteen are Democrats and sixteen Republicans. The elections next year will be for twelve Democrats and sixteen Republicans. It is certain that a Democrat will be returned from Virginia and almost equally so that a Democrat will be returned from Kentucky.

The re-election of several of the senators in the class will probably be accomplished with no show of opposition within their own parties. This will be true of Crane, Frye, Nelson, Warren and Wetmore, Republicans, and of Morgan, Carmack and Tillman, Democrats. It will probably be true also of Burnham, Dryden, Elkins, Bailey, Carmack and Simmons, Democrats. Senator Alger has just announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election. There has been some preliminary talk about opposition to Senator Bailey, but it will hardly be of a serious character. It is not unlikely that Senator Doliver will be unopposed, although an It is expected that Iowa may elect her senator through a primary, but no law has yet been enacted to that end. The proportion of the senators who must secure their election this way is noteworthy. Senator Cullom is already entering upon a primary campaign with ex-Gov. Richard Yates as his leading opponent. It will be the first time that Illinois has ever elected a senator virtually by popular vote. It must be remembered that while the candidate is designated by the primary, the legislature has to observe the formality of electing him to comply with the provisions of the constitution. Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina, and South Carolina have been nominating officials by primary and probably all those states will designate their senators for the term beginning in 1907 in that manner.

WHERE FIGHT WILL BE HOT

There will be some notable contests. Delaware, as usual, will have a big fight over the election of a senator, but the fighting there has been so long drawn out that it will attract little attention. Senator Berry, of Arkansas, one of the old time Democrats and ex-confederates in the senate, will have a struggle to keep from being retired to private life by Gov. Jeff Davis. Senator Burton, of Kansas, will not be re-elected, but there will be a great rivalry among Kansas Republicans for his place. Representative Charles Curtis, of Topeka, and ex-Assistant Postmaster General Bristow will be the leading candidates.

Montana is such a close state politically that the fate of Senator Clark, the millionaire Democrat and copper king, will be uncertain right up to the day of election, and, perhaps until after the legislature has balloted. Senator Dubois, of Idaho, has no expectation of being elected.

The state has been strongly Republican and should send a Republican to fill his seat.

Over in West Virginia the lines are already forming for a battle royal over the seat held by Senator Elkins. He will have strong Democratic opposition because of political complications in the state, but is counted upon as a winner. As far as known, Senator Gamble will succeed himself, but in Nebraska and Oregon there will be vigorous contests for the seats of Senators Millard and Mitchell. Senatorial campaigns in Oregon are always hard fought—more so, possibly, than in any other state of the union.

MORGAN CONCLUDING FIFTH TERM.
 Few of the older and more prominent senators come up for re-election next year. The most conspicuous of them is Senator Morgan, of Alabama, now on his fifth term. He has been continuously in the senate since 1877 and is now 81 years old. Senator Frye is a prominent Republican. He is serving out his fourth complete term, but had two years before that of the unexpired term of the late James G. Blaine. Senator Bacon is concluding his second term, Senator Bailey his first term, Senator Berry his third term, Senator Cullom his fourth term. Senator Warren is serving out his second complete term, but he had had a partial term some years prior to the beginning of his continuous service. Mr. Tillman has been in the senate twelve years.

TWO EXTREMES.

Despite This Woman's Reasoning There Is a Happy Medium.

"A house is a regular vampire if you will allow it to be," said a woman who keeps house and also longs for time to give to other interests outside of the home. "It will absorb all your thought and vitality," she continued, "until your back is bent and your brain concentrated on the little scratches on your hard wood floor or the neglect of the kitchen faucets to shine all the time like gold. If we could be compelled by law to live in houses of a limited number of rooms it might be possible not to be tied hand and foot to their care as I am. You know the woman in the corner house? Nobody would ever think from her dowdy dress that she had such a fine home. But the fact is every dollar that she gets goes for curtains or a new rug or pretty bits of china, and she looks old and neglected through her extreme devotion to her house."

"Her next door neighbor lives just contrary to this plan and is a picture when she goes down the street. Her house is clean enough, but things in it are so shabby. When it comes to choosing between a new rug and a tailor made suit she promptly chooses the garment. It is a pair of gloves before a china plate every time, yet I believe her way is the better, provided one must go to either extreme, and really there seems no sensible half way."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

WOMEN WHO REST.

They Can Always Find Time to Make Others Happy.

The woman that really wants her husband to be happy and doesn't find delight in saving her blackest, most doleful side for him rests before it is time for him to come home. She doesn't work hard until she hears his step, and then, worried and nervous, run to meet him with a complaint upon her lips. She stops work before it is time for him to come, bathes her face, combs her hair, slips into a comfortable, clean dress and either lies down or sits doing nothing until he comes.

The woman who wants to look fresh and be charming at the evening party does the same thing, just to get ready for it. She plans her work so that she need not jump from the dish pan into a pretty dress. She has her clothes ready and she takes a nap during the late afternoon. This is to make her smile ready and her eyes bright.

Both the husband and the hostess will be appreciative of the woman who greets them with that gentle serenity which comes only from one who is rested. Too many women fail to make others happy simply because they are always tired.—Kansas City World.

TROT OR GALLOP?

What Do Fish Do, and the Seals and Insects and Worms?

Here is a problem for people with sharp eyes: As we all know, a horse when walking or trotting advances only one leg of each pair at a time, but when galloping lifts both fore feet together and then both hind feet. Now, the question is how other animals manage this matter. The birds, of course, flap both wings together, but which birds run and which hop? We human beings "trot" when we walk and "gallop" when we swim—that is, if we are using the plain breast stroke. The dog, however, "trots" for both. Now, do the amphibious animals—the seals, otters and the rest—swim like men or like other four footed creatures?

Then there are the fish. One would rather expect that, as they move their tails from side to side, they would flap alternately with the fins, which are their hands and feet. Who can tell whether they do or not and whether all fish at all times follow one rule? By the way, how does a frog use its "hands"?

The great anatomist E. Ray Lankester has pointed out that, while the "thousand legs," such as our common gully worm, advance two feet of a pair together, the centipede, which are much like them, do exactly the opposite, and the swimming worms also alternate the stroke of each pair of paddles. I doubt if many people can tell on which system the caterpillar manages its dozen or so legs or whether the adult insect walks, trots, paces or gallops on its six. How does the spider use eight?

Altogether this is a large field for observation, a field, too, where any one may discover new facts as yet unrecorded, and thus add to the store of knowledge.—St. Nicholas.

CORRECT ATTIRE.

He Who Dresses in Good Taste Shows That He Respects Himself.

When our country was in the log cabin stage of its growth correct dress was not held in high regard, and obviously so. The stout hearted pioneers were too busy hewing paths and blazing trails to cultivate life's finer side. There was the rough work of field and camp, of hammer and saw. But times, men and manners have changed, and a new conception of dress has sprung up. Young men especially recognize the direct relation of correct dress in business and social preference. The well dressed man carries his introduction with him—he is master of himself and of the situation. He commands the respect of others because he shows that he respects himself.

It is true that there are some men of wealth and position who slur their clothes and even some who felign to scorn the niceties of dress. The habits of a careless youth have left their imprint on such men, and it is quite certain that their disdain of dress played no part in their success and detracts measurably from their enjoyment of it, for, after all, the ripest fruit of success is the esteem of one's fellows, and who can esteem the sloven? In talking to a man one's attention naturally roves to his clothes, his hair, his teeth and his finger nails. Dandruff on the shoulder, stains on the waistcoat and unshaven face, muddy hair, creases in the coat, a soiled collar, a mussed cravat, proclaim in trumpet tones that a man lacks the trust refinement—respect of self.—Success.

Making It Easy For Him.

"The most difficult part of a pastor's duty," said a New York preacher, "is the pastoral calls. I have always remembered one of the first I ever made, when I was a green youth just out of a theological seminary. I had been called to the bedside of a member of my church who was well known for his peculiarities and crankiness. After talking with him a few minutes I said: 'Shall I offer a short prayer with you?'"

"Short or long. Use your own judgment," said he.

"More and more embarrassed, I hesitated, and then said, 'What shall I pray for?'"

"Exercise your own discretion as to selection of topics," said he.

A Preliminary.

The minister's wife engaged a new servant. The girl was very friendly with a constable, and one day she invited him to come round to see her. When he came it was washing day. She went and fetched him some beer, biscuits and cheese, but just then a voice called out, "Mary, have you got started to wash yet?"

"Yes," said Mary.

"What are you doing now?"

"Oh, I am just filling up the copper."

—London Telegraph.

No Need For Worry.

"The husband (on his deathbed)—My darling, when I am gone, how will you ever be able to pay the doctor's bills? The wife—Don't worry about that, dear. If the worst comes to the worst, I can marry the doctor, you know."

Imagination.

"Mabel has a most wonderful power of imagination."

"Really? That's the very last thing I should have given her credit for."

"Oh, it's quite true, I assure you. She actually fancies that she's good looking."

His Debts.

"Well, my friend, I never pay my old debts. I forget them."

"And your new ones?"

"Oh, I let them get old."

It is only a long time after having learned it that we know anything well.—Joubert.

BEVELED GLASS TOPS.

For Use on Tables, Bureaus and Like Pieces of Furniture.

In line with the modern antiseptic craze is the fad for having glass tops fitted to all table tops, especially those to be used in bedrooms, and to bureaus and similar articles of furniture. The fashion would seem to suggest a bare and cold effect, somewhat like that to be observed in hospital furnishings, but as the glass tops are now used they rather add to than detract from the decorative quality of the furniture.

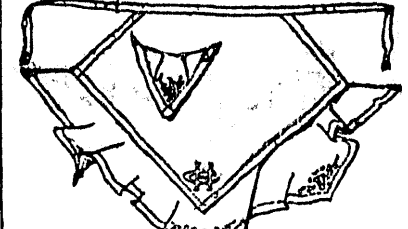

These covers are made of glass about a quarter of an inch thick and beveled around the edges. Naturally they are made in order to fit certain pieces of furniture. Should it be a French table to let the glass cover would conform to its curves exactly, and when placed over the wooden top, perchance beautifully inlaid, it would naturally save it from future dust and marring. When the piece of furniture, however, has a plain top, with nothing attractive to show through the glass, it is customary to place first on the table a fancy cover—the ones painted on bolting cloth are the prettiest—and then to lay the glass cover over it. On a first glance one often sees only the decorative cover and is unconscious of the glass above. When it is remembered that brushes, combs, little pots of cold cream and the like are necessary furnishings of the table de toilette the cleanliness of the glass cover is readily appreciated.

For dining room tables the glass is placed on the bare table, which has in its center a piece of embroidered linen. The dishes and all other appointments of the table are set on the glass. It is a slippery covering, but if used with ordinary care proves to be durable. It is not damaged by either very hot or cold dishes and after a meal is readily wiped off and made fit again. Of course these covers for dining room tables are only feasible for small families and when little entertaining is contemplated. Once on the table the glass is supposed to remain there for a considerable time at least, as it is altogether too heavy to be taken off and put on like an ordinary cloth.—New York Herald.

CHAFING DISH APRON.

How to Make a Dainty One Out of Two Pretty Handkerchiefs.

The chafing dish is as popular as ever, and nowhere can a woman appear to better advantage, so far as daintiness is concerned, than when presiding over this inviting cooking utensil.

HANDKERCHIEF APRON.

So. So it is not surprising that a new use for handkerchiefs has been found in the chafing dish apron. The one illustrated is made from two fancy handkerchiefs bordered with blue, one of which has a cluster of pink roses in each corner. A corner of the plainer handkerchief is cut off to form the top of the apron, and the second, minus one corner, is utilized as a ruffle. The pocket is formed from the corner removed from the rose handkerchief and the strings from the corner of the plainer one.—New York Tribune.

Clear English Skin.

After several months of hard study a committee of doctors appointed to study the clear English skin pronounced upon it thus, giving for its causes a variety of things, says Woman's Life:

First.—The habit of tea drinking. Tea, if not too strong, warms the stomach, flushes the system and aids digestion and circulation.

Second.—The diet, which is simple and easily digested.

Third.—The habit of living in the open air.

Fourth.—The fashion of wearing large shoes and generally loose clothing.

These things promote the health and furnish the material for the clear skin for which the Englishwoman is noted.

Pressing Napkins.

In treating napkins pull the edges straight and iron first on the wrong side. Fold the selvages together and iron this side. Fold again lengthwise with all edges even and iron again. To make the first crosswise fold draw the upper edge back one-half inch from the end. Iron this new surface. Fold once more crosswise and iron on both sides. When folded finally the napkin is square. To fold a small napkin to correspond with the dinner size fold one selvage two-thirds over toward the other selvage. Iron again and fold the other selvage forward until the edges are even. Fold the right hand edge over to the left a little less than two-thirds of the way. Iron and fold again, so that the edges are even. The napkin is now square.

List on a Polished Table.

Sometimes polished dining tables are disfigured by lint or fuzz sticking to the wood after hot dishes have been placed on the oilecloth instead of on the table mats. To remove the lint soak the "fuzzy" places with kerosene, leaving it on for a couple of hours. Rub off all that can be brought away with a soft brush (a camel-hair brush if you have it). Now, with a bit of oil linen, rub in long and well camphorated oil. Several applications may be necessary, but the fuzz will come off at last.

PUBLIC DIETETIC BUREAU.

Physician's Proposition to Publish Wise Formulas of Diet.

A public dietetic bureau which shall publish in the daily papers wise formulae of diet and physical management of the human body was suggested at the American Institute of Homeopathy in Chicago recently by Dr. M. O. Terry, former surgeon, general of New York, says the Chicago Tribune. He held that such an educational measure would result in the palliation or permanent eradication of appendicitis and other diseases which afflict the public.

He proposed not that the physicians should receive a salary, but that they should unite in a magnanimous enterprise to donate to the general welfare the latest information upon the subject of dietetic and preventive treatment which, while it might lessen the necessity for the profession of medicine, would rid the world of much pain and suffering.

"Just in proportion as the people are educated to give due attention to themselves so that the machinery of the body will perform its duties without the assistance of the various medicines so generally in use, just so large will appendicitis difficulties decrease in number until they will be brought to the attention of the physicians and the surgeon as only an occasional malady. The medical profession is too humane and too advanced in higher education to encourage ignorance, but must take the position of instructors, which, we admit, might be unwise from a mercenary standpoint, yet a physician's duty to himself and to the public and the responsibilities of his calling would seem to demand a personal sacrifice for the philanthropic end in view."

"Finally, how best can this education be carried on? By unity of effort on the part of the profession—a bureau elected for that purpose composed of men especially gifted in dietetics who should formulate a system of diet and management of our bodily structures. This could be given to the press as coming from this organization and as representing the most recent thought on the subject."

Dr. Terry also paid attention to the "appendicitis craze," declaring that in many cases where operations were performed a short vacation or a series of morning walks would have prevented the serious turn taken by the disease. He said that appendectomy was wrongly becoming a synonym for surgery, and quoted Dr. Osler's statement, "Pain in the stomach nowadays is always appendicitis and is recognized by the physician's wife over the telephone."

SCHOOL ENVIED OF NATIONS

Applications From All Over the World at Carnegie Institution.

No fewer than 7,200 applications for enrollment as scholars have already been received by the trustees of the new Carnegie Technical school at Pittsburgh, which will not be opened for three months, says a special dispatch from Pittsburgh to the New York Times.

Every country in the civilized world is represented. There are applications from all parts of Europe, all the South American countries and from Asia.

France and Germany, however, head the list, more than half of the applicants being from those countries. Japan and Russia are also well represented. The Philippines appear to be particularly anxious to enter the school, a large number of the letters being from inhabitants of the islands. In addition to the letters from individuals, application has been made by William Sutherland, representing the commission which proposes to bring Filipino children to the United States for education, for admission of twenty pupils.

The trustees of the institution have decided to care first for applicants from Pittsburgh and western Pennsylvania, then from other states in the United States, next from the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico, and afterward from the foreign countries.

Most of the letters received are from persons between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-six years, who desire to go to Pittsburgh and complete their education.

He Finds Automobiles in the Bible.

"The chariots shall race in the streets; they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways; they shall seem like torches; they shall run like the lightning." This utterance of Nahum, chapter II, verse 4, was the Biblical prophecy of the modern automobile, recently declared the Rev. G. L. Morrill in a sermon at St. Paul, directed exclusively, says the Indianapolis News, to reckless chauffeurs.

Tribute to John Hay.

Fallen like an eagle from his perch—From you clear height none dared to soil—Beats on that noble heart no more Above the warfare and the spoil—

The poet-statesman's, in whose thought Self had no place since first he shared The world his boyhood's chieftain wrought The faith which life nor substance spared?

There are who serve their country well Yet stoop to crave her light acclaim; His patriot pulses leap and toll Not asked the glory of a name.

Love, honor, rose to him indeed As vapors toward the sunlit sky, But his the generous heart, at need, Without a pang to put them by.

Even so, a white star on his crest, We knew him in his stainless youth; Even so—naught else than loyalty—The world his manhood learned in sooth.

And if there be—and if there be A realm where lives still forward roll, Even so—no other—strong and free Through time and space shine on, dear soul!

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

Contagious Blood Poison more thoroughly poisons the blood than any other disease. Every part of the body is affected when the virus becomes entrenched in the circulation; red eruptions break out on the skin, the mouth and throat ulcerate, glands in the neck and groins swell, the hair falls out, copper-colored blotches appear on the body, etc.

I was afflicted with blood poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every so-called blood remedy, but they did not seem to reach the disease, and had no effect whatever. I was disheartened, for it seemed that I would never be cured. At the advice of a friend I then took S. S. S. and began to improve. I continued the medicine, and it cured me completely.

Hamlet, N. C. W. R. NEWMAN.

So highly contagious is this disease that many a life has been ruined by the toilet articles of one affected with the poison. To cure this hideous and hateful disease a constitutional remedy is required. S. S. S. goes down to the very root of the trouble and forces out every particle of the virus from the blood and cures the disease permanently. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and derives out the trouble, root and branch, and no signs of it are ever seen again. Those who have been cured by S. S. S. can feel as assured that none of the poison is left in the blood to transmit to innocent offspring. The entire body is built up and the blood made pure, rich and healthy by this great remedy. Book with instructions for home treatment and any medical advice desired will be given free of charge.

INDICATIONS.

Washington, July 23.—For Illinois: Fair Sunday and Monday; cooler in north Sunday.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR SOME-BODY.

As previously stated in the Journal, I am preparing to leave for California and am anxious to close up all my business affairs here so as to get away by the first of September.

To this end, I am offering my home on Hardin avenue for sale. It is a good piece of property; lot is 80x206 1/2 feet, with considerable fruit, grapes, blackberries, peaches, etc.; a house of eight large rooms, five having bay windows; a number of the rooms are newly papered. The house has been put in perfect repair and is newly painted, has an excellent hot air furnace, and gas in every room. It stands at the highest part of Hardin avenue, the basement under all of the main portions of the house is consequently always dry. Has one of the best wells in the city.

I have been holding the property at $2,000, but as I am very anxious to close up my affairs at once, I now cease to ask a set price, but desire those who are interested in the matter to examine the property and make me an offer. I stand ready to accept the first reasonable proposition made me, and can give a perfectly clear title, in fact, a warranty deed, to the purchaser.

CAUSE IS UNKNOWN.

Quincy Herald: The coroner's jury of Pike county reached the verdict Friday morning in the case of the death of Marion Butler that the deceased came to his death from some cause unknown to the jury.

It will be remembered that Marion Butler was found dead on the Wabash railroad about one and one-half miles east of East Hannibal on the afternoon of July 12, his body being mutilated in a most horrible manner.

Several theories were advanced as to the cause of the death, among them being that he might have been murdered and his body thrown on the track; that he dropped dead from heart disease, and that he lay down on the track and went to sleep and was killed by the train. As none of these theories could be substantiated the jury returned the above named verdict. Hence the investigation is ended and it may never be known how he came to his death.
